NORTHERN DESIGN AWARDS CELEBRATE 17 YEARS IN MANCHESTER

Design's leading lights are honoured at the 17th annual Northern Design Awards

On Friday (15 November), hundreds of leading designers assembled at the striking Principal Hotel in Manchester to find out which individuals and companies would be walking away with one of the North's most prestigious design awards.

During the ceremony, the evening's host, Event Director, Shelley Mears, gave a rousing welcome about the role design can play in improving our lives, highlighting the great work that's being done within the design sector in the North.

Shelley Mears said: "We were proud to welcome so many talented individuals and fantastic companies from all over the North of the UK for our annual awards. The Principal Hotel once again provided a very fitting setting for the awards and this year we were thrilled with the number of entries and calibre of work submitted".

Shelley said of the event; "With the support of our enormously well-respected panel of judges, and generous sponsors, not to mention the hugely talented people who enter the awards, they continue to go from strength to strength and we are already looking ahead to 2020."

This year's judging panel featured Wayne Hemingway, Nick Munro, BIID President Harriet Forde and internationally renowned designer, George Bond, plus the influential designer, Linda Barker. Details of the line-up for next year's awards will be released on the Northern Design Awards website over the coming months.
